Kiwanis Completes Successful Year

ACHIEVES UNUSUAL RECORD FOR FIRST YEAR CLUB

Close Year With Christmas Program

The Kiwanis Club of Grayling closed its first year Wednesday with a Christmas program. A lighted Christmas tree and Christmas decorations on the long table and a live Santa Claus couldn't have delighted a group of kiddies more than it did our dignified business and professional men. With the air resounding with Christmas carols it certainly did full justice to the festive occasion.

And too, it was the occasion for President Clippert to hand over the gavel of authority to his successor—Emil Gieggling. This was the closing of the Club's first year and it may be seen by the President's final report that it had been a busy one and a very successful one.

Indeed, the year President Clippert "played ball" with the committees and members and had fine support and action in return. The club boasts of 34 members, 29 of whom were present at this meeting. Many fine new friendships have been made by Grayling people thru the activities of Kiwanis. This means much to Grayling. In this Dr. Clippert played a large part. His wide acquaintance throughout Michigan was a distinct advantage in favor of Grayling club. He made a fine record that could only come by everlastingly keeping the interest of the Club ever foremost in his mind.

And the coming year looks favorable for even greater success. Emil Gieggling, the newly elected president, is a high type Kiwanian, the kind who too will give his best efforts for the club. That means hard work and personal sacrifice of time and pleasure.

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors, Mrs. Clippert was voted an honorary membership in the club. That was because of her splendid assistance with the music, especially as the pianist.

Three new members were welcomed into the club at this meeting—Emil Niederer, Ernest Hoesli, and William Hill.

President's Report

The Kiwanis club of Grayling, organized early this year, is bringing its first year to a close with a record of remarkable achievement. Its interests and activities have been many and worth-while. A review of these as recorded in the President's address given below will hearten the citizens of this community. This record is not only a source of appreciation in the minds of all, but a promise for the future of this growing organization.

President's Address

Fellow Kiwanians:

We are at the close of our first year as the Kiwanis Club of Grayling and a successful year it was when you consider the brief instruction that we received. We were then tossed into the middle of the stream as a child where it was either sink or swim. Thanks to the great guiding spirit who guided the destiny of our club, we have completed a successful year.

A year ago, I accepted the position of trust and responsibility and opportunity without a single delusion as to the problems which were to ahead.

Greetings to Our Friends and Customers

THE clock strikes... Christmas in the home has begun. The throng is homeward bound... to loved ones... to share in their joys and happiness. We join the throng and await the dawn of the year's happiest morning... But not until we add our voice to the chorus of "Merry Christmas to one and all."

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS DINNER

Turkey and Chicken, 12: 00 o'clock to 2:00 o'clock.

Shoppenagons
Cocktail Room

Throughout the year there has been only one thought in mind, and that was the welfare of the organization.

The present period demands equanimity. It is not a time for radical changes or innovations. Steadfastness of purpose, the maintenance of self confidence and a sustained loyalty to the objects and purposes of Kiwanis Guard. Hallowe'en party for school children on behalf of boy scouts. Entertained personnel of east in "Hollywood Bound" who gave a play for benefit of boy scouts.

Sponsored public address "Mental Hygiene" by Dr. Philip Sheets.

Public Affairs:

Committee appointed to boost Fish Hatchery project.

Petition to City Council to plant trees to beautify streets.

Endorsed Taft Highway memorial.

Sent delegates to Mt. Pleasant meeting for beautification of highway US 27.

Kiwanis will soon enter a new year with a new spirit. What does Kiwanis see ahead in the shifting shapes of fog? Visibility is still low, but, we, as a whole, are rebuilding, not upon the ruins of materialism but upon the foundations that have endured through the ages—faith, hope and love. Every member should be actually engaged in committee work. While educating new members, we must not overlook the necessity of educating or re-educating old members. Many important plans and projects for 1936 are under consideration, by the various committees and the organization as a whole. I bring but one of these to your attention.

Vocational Guidance Committee:

Recommend the co-operation of the school authorities as absolutely essential to the success of a club vocational guidance program.

Presentation of medals to students making exceptional progress in work during four years proves attractive and valuable.

Recommend prizes, scholarships and contests pertaining to educational work.

Recommend beautification of city; establishing a playground.

Farmer organization nights to promote better relations with rural population.

Now in closing, I do not need to request your support to your President-Elect as it will be forthcoming 100% and I wish him and the Club the utmost success, happiness and prosperity for the year 1936.

Cong'man Woodruff Given Reception

WILL MEET FRIENDS AT HOTEL TONIGHT

Congressman Roy Woodruff arrived in Grayling today and dropped in to call on some of his old friends and to meet new ones.

Tonight at Shoppenagons Inn a dinner is being served in his honor and no doubt Mr. Woodruff will be called upon for a talk. Everyone who wishes to do so is urged to attend. And all who wish to remain for the banquet are invited. Tickets are 75 cents.

This was arranged so that as many as possible may have the opportunity to meet Mr. Woodruff. In a few days he will return to take up his congressional duties in Washington. There may be matters to take up with our congressman and this gives the people an opportunity to do so. There is hardly a week that

Big Crew At Winter Sports Park

HOPE TO BE OPEN FOR PLAY IN HOLIDAYS

A crew of men have been busy getting Grayling's winter sports park in readiness for cold weather and snow, when the big toboggan slides, skating rink, and other features will again be hummed with the purr of steel runners.

Local business men have been asked to make up a fund of $1,000 with which to put the park in condition and for the expense of maintaining it and for special park features.

Winter sports spirit is running high and everyone is looking forward to another big year. And besides outsiders, including many of our summer citizens, are looking forward to the time when they may again enjoy winter sports in a way that they like to do so. They know that at Grayling they don't have to stand on the sidelines and watch others play, but they can take part in the sport, for here "Everybody Plays."

Carnival dates have been set for January 24, 25 and 26th. At that time special entertaining features will be offered, appropriate to this form of amusement, by amateurs and professionals. This is always a big feature of the winter season in Grayling. But for those who wish to enjoy winter sports over the week ends, it is the plan to have the park in operation at those times. Already excursion trains are being arranged for to bring people here on Sundays, and Roy Trudgen, president of the Winter Sports, Inc., says that his committees intend to see to it that we are always prepared to give the people what they want, weather permitting.

Two beautifully lighted trees, one at the intersection of Peninsula and Michigan avenues and the other on Michigan avenue near Norway, make the main thoroughfare a pretty sight at night. With the boulevard lamps vari-colored and a Christmas tree in front of most of the business places, Grayling has truly caught the Christmas spirit.

Sunday, they celebrated with a house warming, and had with them Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Papendick, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Anns, and their families. The occasion was also in honor of the 67th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Louisa Papendick. A very delicious dinner was enjoyed and the guests presented the guest of honor with many lovely gifts.

Wishing you a merry Christmas.

The Christmas party for the children of the catechism classes of St. Mary's church will be held at the Ford show rooms in the Burke Garage, Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3:00 o'clock.

Holger Schmidt celebrated his birthday anniversary Monday, and in the evening, was surprised by receiving a long-distance telephone call from his brother, Hans Schmidt, located at Los Angeles, Calif., who called to wish him a happy birthday. Mr. Schmidt says that the line was very clear and he could hear his brother very plainly.

In order that children may be in bed early on Christmas Eve and adults may be free to spend most of the evening in their homes, the Christmas program given by the Church School at the Michelson Memorial Church on Christmas Eve will begin promptly at 7:30 and end before nine o'clock. Let this program with its recitation, songs, and beautiful pageant lead you into the Christmas spirit.

The Friday club met last week at the home of Mrs. Edwin Chalker. Keno was enjoyed with Mrs. Middle LaMotte, Mrs. Ben Pankow, Mrs. Rudolph Feldhausen, Mrs. Luther Herrick and Mrs. Louis Malonen winning the prizes. The club helped to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Carrie Feldhausen. Besides being honored with two lovely birthday cakes, Mrs. Feldhausen was presented with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers. Guests of the club were Mrs. Luther Herrick, Mrs. Middle LaMotte and Mrs. John Charlefour.

Music lovers will enjoy the Christmas cantata to be given Sunday night, December 22nd at Michelson Memorial church. Mrs. Clippert, director, and members of the choir have been working hard on this feature for several weeks and it's going to be a fine Christmas season treat for everyone. And the choir will be augmented by a chorus of 45 young people, all in choir gowns, presenting Christmas carols. It is your privilege to enjoy this fine presentation if you care to do so. All are welcome. Begins at 5 o'clock Sunday evening.

Give her Hose for Christmas. Nicely boxed in all the new shades. Sheer Chiffon, from 79c to $1.00, at Cooley's Gift Shop.

CHARITY BALL WILL BE FINE AFFAIR

Merely the announcement that the Hospital Aid are to give their annual charity ball is sufficient for this community to know that a very lovely party will be given at the high school gym New Years Eve (Dec. 31).

Arrangements have been going on for some time. Committees are preparing to make this party one of the peppiest Grayling people have enjoyed in some years.

Scott Campbell's orchestra of Traverse City will furnish the music. This orchestra comes highly recommended. As 1935 fades out and 1936 comes in there will be plenty of joy and fun for all.

Tickets will be $1.00 per couple. So plan to spend your New Years with the crowd, for they will all be at the ball.

CHRISTMAS SEALS—RIBBONS—PAPERS

No matter how extensive the stock of Christmas seals, pasters, ribbons, cards, decorations, tissues, wrappings, Christmas boxes, etc., the lines are usually depleted days before gift night. We therefore suggest you see our brand new stocks now and make early selections. Unique and colorful designs are now available.

Christmas Eve, Tuesday, Dec.

24th, 7:30

The annual Christmas program given by the Church School. The first half of the program will be presented by the children of the third grade and under, directed by Mrs. Funkhouser.

The second half will consist of a pageant dramatized by the children and young people of the fourth grade and over.

Every one participating in the program is requested to be at the church at seven o'clock, in order that there be no delay and the service begin promptly at 7:30 and close before nine o'clock.

There will be no charge for admission, but a White Gift offering will be received for the benefit of the Children's Home in Detroit.

Every one is cordially invited. Surely Christmas will mean more to us if we share in the religious celebration of the season.

Were it not for Christ, we would have no Christmas. Then let us observe it by worshiping Him in some church.

CHRISTMAS-CHEER PARTY FOR LITTLE ONES

A sparkling, cheery Christmas party was given by the Woman's Club for little guests at Michelson Memorial church Monday evening.

Each member took as their guest a child between six and ten years of age.

A delightful program on a mythical radio from station XMAS was given, followed by the appearance of Santa Claus who distributed gifts from a beautifully lighted tree.

The party finished up with a lunch served from tables covered with miniature Christmas trees and guarded by red candles.

Miss Dorr was chairman of the program; Mrs. Gerald Poor, decorations; and Mrs. Jess Balmer, of lunch.

The evening was spent playing pinocchio and keno, prizes being won by Mrs. Eugene Papendick and Frank Serven. After a very pleasant evening a pot luck lunch was served. Decorations were carried out in green and brown. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Bromwell, of Lake Leelanau. Mrs. Peterson received many lovely gifts.

'Christmas Seal Them First, Sir'

EVEN Joe Buzolits, center on Michigan State College's great football team, has to Christmas seal his mail, declares Miss Peggy Sharpe, Michigan State coed, as she bars his way to the mail box until he has purchased 1935 tuberculosis Christmas seals. Joe's pennies will help to finance the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's fight against the disease during the coming year.

For young adults in Michigan between the ages of 20 and 40, tuberculosis is still the principal cause of death. This condition exists in spite of the fact that medical science has now advanced to a point where tuberculosis could be wiped out, if a widespread knowledge of the modern weapons that are being used to combat the disease could be brought to the general public. The modern weapons are the tuberculin test and the chest X-ray.

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association conducts a constant health education campaign in the state. Adult health education is accomplished through a number of channels. An abundance of informative material originating in the offices of the Association is published each year by the newspapers of Michigan. Other mediums are: personal talks, radio programs, motion pictures, billboard posters, window displays, and free exhibits.

Children throughout the state are reached in their schools, a most effective way. Healthful living habits are taught and health literature is distributed to both the children and the teacher.

Your pennies will help the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in this work in the fight against tuberculosis.

Good Crowd Sees The Junior Play

Grayling had a chance Tuesday night to "Meet Uncle Sally," and a good crowd saw nearly two hours of rapid-fire action as the Junior class presented the first play of their scholastic careers with real skill and zest.

The play was well chosen, to begin with. "Meet Uncle Sally" is consistently full of action. Complication is piled upon complication for three hilarious acts, its plots and disguises multiply. Smart lines combine with unexpected situations, and the result is mighty good entertainment. To put the drama across also depends upon a cast of characters that can carry the clever dialogue, and go through the complex scenes with precision and skill. Natural ability, combined with training. The Class of '37 set a high standard for itself by its performance of Tuesday night, and Mr. Cecil Roberts, director, made his initial effort a notable one in Grayling. All went smoothly behind the footlights, while the audience rocked in their seats out front.

The troubles start when Ben and Betty Blayne, possessed of a Swedish cook, a rented butler, and a non-appearing rich uncle, decide it is necessary to coerce a college-girl acquaintance to impersonate the missing oilman relative. From there on the brother and sister are well on the road to a collective headache. Their respective fiancées bring with them a possessive old maid aunt who pursues the unfortunate masculine impersonator into an engagement. An osteopathic student, who combines charm with muscle, appears, and treats the wrong party to a violent session, while the second designing female appears in the person of the Dean of Women from the college looking for the missing student. There's even a minister who almost gets a chance to tie a triple knot. Into the muddle finally appears the long missing uncle, full of western idioms and covered with artillery. He gets a rather more violent reception than anyone else had gotten, which is not to ignore what happened to the butler. This is not an attempt to reconstruct the plot, but only to show the possibilities for the scenes which were a continuous delight to the appreciative audience.

Twelve Juniors comprised the well chosen cast of characters. Not one but turned in a pleasing contribution from the major roles down to the shorter parts. Bill Joseph and Monica Hewitt were the harassed brother and sister, and each had a long and difficult part. Each carried it in most convincing style. Elsie Mae LaMotte was "yippin'" the Swedish cook, more skillful at blackmail than cooking. This was another part well done. The oilie girls impersonator of Uncle Bill had a difficult task, one of the key parts of the whole play. Mary Gretchen Connine tarred in this role. It was a polished piece of acting which added tremendously to the success of the Junior's play. Margaret Buck and Kermit Charron played nicely opposite Ben and Betty in the youthful romances which made a major part of the foundation of the drama, while Virginia Skingley shone as the romantic old maid interested more or less equally in men and millions. Loren Dunham was the osteopathic bone-breaker. To say that he did this convincingly is mild. The prim and important Dean of women was the part of Evelyn Skingley. She carried his to perfection, while Herbert Feldhauser was a suave and disappointed clergyman. Last but not least was the roaring and abused Uncle Bill, the bona fide he-man from the oil fields—Homer King, in a ten gallon hat and with a regular sized roar.

The entire group of Juniors did themselves proud. There was virtually no prompting and the youthful stars went through their parts with real dispatch, a credit to their director and themselves. The Class of '37 is to be congratulated.

Miss McNeven's school orchestra filled the two periods between acts most acceptably. All in all it was a fine show.

CHURCH SCHOOL PRESENTS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The annual Church School program of the Methodist Memorial Church will be presented on Christmas Eve, 7:00 o'clock. The singing of carols will open the program. This will be followed by recitations, dialogues, and songs given by the children of the kindergarten and primary departments under the direction of Mrs. A. Funk and Mrs. Larson.

The children and young people of the junior, intermediate, and high school departments will tell the story of the birth of Christ in song and prose and drama, thus taking the form of beautiful pageant entitled "The First Christmas Eve."

The pageant is introduced by the singing of Christmas carols by a fine chorus of boys and girls of the junior and intermediate classes. These children have been trained by Mrs. T. P. Peterson and Mrs. Merton Wright.

The role of shepherds will be taken by Edwin Funck, Jerrold Barger, Herbert McDonnell, Robert Welsh and Robert Tinker.

These boys have been meeting with Mrs. Gerald Poor for training. The angels will be Katherine Peterson, Mildred Craft, Eleanor Bugby, Jeanne Hanson, Thelma Papendick, Marjory Roarke, Dorothy Skingley, with Jane Ann Martin as the speaker and Audrey Brado as the soloist. John Matthews, as the Egyptian, Edward Martin, the Hindu; and Forrest Brado, as the Greek, will be the Wise Men. Richard Reynolds will take the part of Joseph and Violet Daley that of the Virgin Mary. Beatrice Peterson will play the violin during the pageant. Mrs. T. P. Peterson will be at the piano. Virginia Skingley will be the reader.

Mrs. Fred Welsh and her committee are to decorate the church. Mr. Axel Peterson is in charge of the Christmas treat, which will be distributed by Santa Claus and his helpers in the dining room at the close of the program. Robert Funck, as electrician, is arranging a beautiful lighting effect.

The offering made annually at the Church School Christmas program is known as the White Gifts to the King and will be given to the Children's Home of Detroit, which takes care of needy children from the state of Michigan.

The entire program will be over before nine o'clock, thus permitting the children and their parents to be home early, the children to go to bed early and their parents to spend the evening at home in preparation for Old Santa.

Every one is invited to the program and to share in its appreciation of the Christmas story.

SCHOOL VACATION TIME

With holiday vacation just around the corner, most of the local school teachers have made plans for the two weeks. Miss Margaret Douglas will be at her home at Lovells; Miss Olive Peeke had planned to spend her vacation in New York but has decided to visit at Three Rivers and will be a guest at the home of her brother, Raymond Peeke; Miss Eva Dorr will be at her home at Grass Lake.

Miss Josephine Nichols will visit her parents at Lansing; Miss Eleanor Tumath will be a guest of her sister, Mrs. Florence Neebis, at Carroll; Miss Doris Bitler plans to spend her vacation at her home at Mt. Pleasant; Miss Ina Conboy will be at her home at Cheboygan; Miss Marie Cook will be at her home at Alpena; Miss Margaret Geedy at Big Rapids, and Miss Cecilia Falter will visit at her home at Gladwin and will also spend some time at Detroit. Miss Margaret Fyvie will spend her vacation at her home at McMillan; Miss Vivian Hewens will visit at her home at Ypsilanti; Miss Ina Tapio at her home at Calumet; Miss Shirley McNeven at Bay City; and Mr. Cecil Roberts at his home at Onaway.

Supt. and Mrs. Gerald Poor will spend their Christmas vacation at Ludington and Eaton Rapids, visiting the homes of both of their parents.

Many beautiful Christmas features and stories by James Hilton, Booth Tarkington, Joseph Auslander, Harlan T. Stetson, Patterson Dial, Ruth Comfort Mitchell and Ernest Poole appear in this week's Detroit News. Watch for it!

HEALTH AND HYGIENE

(By Joint Commission on Health Education)

About one-half of the cases of pneumonia develops following the common cold, bronchitis, or tonsilitis. An acute infection in the nose and throat commonly involves the air passages of the upper lungs and unless the proper care is taken, pneumonia may result.

The prevention of pneumonia depends, to a certain extent, upon avoiding colds and the lowered resistance of the body.

While these are the points we strive for, neither can be fully carried out in practice.

There is some doubt that a heavy dosage of germs increases the severity of the disease which follows so that close proximity to people with colds is to be avoided.

Over-crowded rooms, poor ventilation, and sudden changes in weather are factors in producing colds apart from individual resistance.

In certain cases, fatigue definitely plays a part, especially in the development of pneumonia.

Children who are undernourished or who already carry a latent infection in the respiratory tract, are likely to develop pneumonia.

The first treatment for a cold is to go to bed before fatigue appears.

This gives the body the opportunity to marshal its resources to fight the infection.

Anyone experienced with colds soon learns that the nasal secretions are much less if one remains quiet and warm.

In the acute state, the slightest change in body temperature seems to bring a flood of secretion.

If natural sleep can be secured, colds seem to improve rapidly.

An abundance of fluids is necessary.

Small children will take sweetened fruit juice when food or water is refused, and it prevents the possible development of acidosis.

Foreword

Pright as the blazing Yule, splendid as the candles in the Tabernacle, holy as the lights that burned through the Sacred mysteries, Christmas is with us once again.

FOR as the Scriptures declare—light cometh in the midst of darkness so in the darkest season do we celebrate our brightest day. Though earth be wrapped in the chill of frost and the sun has lost its power to heat—our hearts are warmed and our spirits glow with the thoughts that Christmas brings.

TO the spirit of the Season do we commend you—and following the custom of the time, convey our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a happy one. May the spirit which is upon us bless you—and give you your heart's desire. May the year which is approaching favor you with every happiness it can bestow.

New Ice Fishing Regulations

(Dept. of Conservation Press Service)

Michigan's new ice-fishing regulations for inland waters, which have been the subject of controversy in sportsmen's circles, will go into effect throughout the state Jan. 1.

The new regulations limit the inland-lake fishermen to the use of two ice-lines with not more than one hook attached to each line and require that these lines be held in the hand or under immediate control.

The regulations also apply to the "tip-up" or any similar mechanical device used for the taking of fish from the inland waters. No more than two "tip-ups" may be used by an individual fisherman and these must be under immediate control.

There is one exception to these regulations, explained Fred A. Westerman, chief of Michigan's fisheries operations. Smeat fishermen in recognized smelt waters are also restricted to the use of two lines but may use any number of hooks on a line.

The two ice-line regulations however, do not apply to the Great Lakes or connecting wa-

Camp Fire Girls Notes

Our meeting of the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades was held last Friday at Mrs. Flory's. Twenty-one were present at her home. We made plans for our Christmas party, and now have them completed. The party is to take place Friday, December 20th at the church. We expect to show the young boys and girls a very pleasant evening.

Misses Jayne Keyport and Georgiana Olson were our guests again last week, and are helping us very much in planning our party. They offered to get the names of some small boys and girls, and are sending them their invitations. We have a committee of our girls for table decorations, to plan games, etc. We are sure Santa Claus will be there.

Our Camp Fire books have arrived and each member is getting her book. We have taken in one new member, making twenty-three in all in our 6, 7, and 8th grade group.

Mrs. Flory closed our meeting during which all members of the Camp Fire Girls wished everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

TO OUR PATRONS

It seems appropriate as the year of 1935 draws to a close that we extend to you our hearty appreciation and thanks for the fine way in which you have accepted the Ford V-8 for 1935. Although the 1936 car season is still in its infancy your response to the new models indicates that 1936 will be even a greater Ford year than 1935. And with this in mind we, the Burke organization, wish you all a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

FREDERIC SCHOOL

Some of the Physics students would appreciate some convincing points, that they can pass along to their fellow students on whether air is or is not elastic. We have given them some very good examples (at least we think they were) that air is elastic: A basketball filled with compressed air will bounce, whereas when the air is allowed to escape from the ball, it will no longer bounce.

Dr. Brown (Joe E. Brown) alias Lewis Murphy, is being kept exceedingly busy caring for the many bruises that the little basketball enthusiasts from Mrs. Smith's room receive while playing basketball.

Friday afternoon we had a pep meeting preparing to go to the games at Gaylord and Alba.

Friday night the girls played a basketball game at Gaylord with the St. Mary's girls. The Frederic girls were victorious with a score of 22-20. Miss Brooks went to the Sugar Bowl restaurant with the girls where they were given a little treat. We wish to express our thanks.

Friday night the boys played basketball with the first and second teams of Alba. The second team won their game, having a score of 15-9. The first team was not so lucky and lost their game by a score of 12-10. After the games the boys and girls met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sim J. Lewis where a delightful lunch was served, and the night's undertakings discussed by the girls and boys. We, the students, wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and all those who helped to make the occasion a happy one. We should like to have you accept our apology for our very dull looks, as Friday is quite a strenuous day for us.

We were very pleased to have Mr. Leo Close as our guest on Monday. He told us of some very good reasons for having an education. Spoke of the different means of travel, and how much more the American people traveled than those of Europe. He told us of interesting occupations of other people, and the crops they raised in different districts.

Commercial Law Class
Our eight-name student says his wife is going to buy her own groceries and know what she needs, however he will pay for them. He also proposed to Minerva Sanborn. But he then decided that he couldn't make such a contract as he is only an infant in the eyes of the law. Otis Feldhauser says his wife is going to purchase and pay for everything with her money. A warning to BEWARE, we believe.

Would someone be kind enough to tell Jack Dunckley why married women don't stay at home. He seems to be quite concerned about the matter—perhaps he is contemplating marriage as he is calling Minerva "honeybunch."

Friday afternoon we had a pep meeting in preparation for the basketball games with Johannesburg. The first and second teams were victorious. The second team score was 17-14; the first team's, 29-22. After the games a lunch was served to the young people from Johannesburg, and the local students, and dancing took place in the gym.

We have a new scholar in the twelfth grade, Louise Vollmer, who enrolled last week.

A Study In Citizenship

A matter which concerns the public today is "Safety" and right now the Civics 10 students are concerned with it. We have just started, as regular class work, the book "Safe and Sane Use of Highways," by Thomas Allen, who is director of traffic safety of the city of Superior, Wisconsin.

It gives us an understanding of the problem, a clear exposition of the proper use of public highways, the

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Say, folks, the Grayling Dairy wants me to wish you a Merry Christmas and a prosperous year in 1936. At the same time they want to thank you, one and all, for your loyal support during the past year. Every bottle of milk you have bought has been appreciated by them.

Christmas is a great time to think of good things. I sure like Old Santa Claus, and I'm telling you, folks, if you're getting your milk from Grayling Dairy you're not making a mistake. Mother gets our milk from them and it has kept us healthy and full of pep. We're all set for Christmas.

the CCC for the operation of various state-owned roads and regulations regarding the equipment of vehicles and some miscellaneous highway traffic regulations.

Along with the book is "The Learning Cycle Practice Books." It contains projects and problems pertaining to all users of highways, who are drivers, passengers and pedestrians.

For our bulletin board we are collecting pictures and articles of safety and safe practices. The bulletin board committee this week is Billy Lowe and Lyman LaVack.

From this study we are learning some interesting but astounding facts and figuring out interesting traffic problems.

Camp News

CAMP HIGGINS LAKE

Lieut. Gordon C. Gill has requested he be relieved from active duty with the CCC December 31 to accept civilian employment at Kalamazoo. He reported here for duty on May 16 of this year and has had various assignments on camp duties since then. At present he is post exchange, transportation, and assistant supply officer. He and Mrs. Gill have made their home in Grayling since his assignment here.

Authorities in CCC headquarters are urging all enrollees to have their fingerprints taken and filed for identification purposes. Lieut. Katzman has charge of his work for Camp Higgins Lake and the fingerprinting is being done by the first aid men, Harry Nyström and Carl Osterlund.

Authorities in CCC Headquarters

Four men of this organization were sent to Camp Custer for the boxing tournament there December 13. They were Rudolph Harrison, John Pociask, Stanley Bayon, and Elmer Welch. John Maluszewski also qualified for entry but did not care to enter the Camp Custer tournament. Camp Higgins Lake took four of the eight titles in the tournament held at Grayling December 7. The group was coached by Lieut. S. H. Cropp, who was also at Camp Custer with the men.

The Director of Emergency Conservation Work has requested the Director of CCC Camp Education to collect from the camps interesting stories on how enrollees have been benefited or materially aided by the Civilian Conservation Corps. It is expected this camp will be able to furnish these authorities a number of interesting papers on this subject.

Christmas holiday leaves start December 21, but unless it is necessary to make up time lost from work during the week, the men will be permitted to leave for home December 20 following work. It is anticipated over half the men in camp will take advantage of this holiday leave, which expires at midnight, December 26. New Year leaves start December 28 and expire January 2 at midnight. No enrollee is entitled to both leaves. These are being improved with paint.

The work of putting aluminum foil on the ceiling of the new mess hall is completed and the celotex for the walls will probably be nailed on during the week. Capt. Murphy's class in carpentry is doing the work. The interior of the shower room is also being improved with paint.

Lieut. G. M. Katzman, and Adviser L. B. Merritt have been appointed first aid instructors for this camp by the American Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis.

CAMP AUSSABLE

The following letter was sent to former enrollees of Camp AuSable with a mimeographed card enclosed. The card carried a questionnaire for the ex-CCCs to fill out and return. Over two hundred such letters were sent out.

Dear Fellows:

Camp AuSable wishes you a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

"We hope that you have had success since leaving the CCC camp and will continue in your good luck."

"To assist in a summary of ex-enrollees we would appreciate our filling out the enclosed card and returning it."

Sincerely,

COMPANY 681."

Several replies have been received and more are expected in the near future.

Photographic supplies have arrived and plans are being made for a class along that line. Photographer C. E. Hagel, formerly with the National Geographic Magazine, will assist in organizing a class.

A class of twenty-seven in first Aid has been organized. Red Cross certificates will be given at the end of fifteen lessons to those passing the test.

Arrangements are to be made the first of the year for the journalism class to visit the Avalanche office to learn about printing.

The December 20th issue of the "AuSable News" Camp AuSable's paper, will be printed in red ink. It is to be a special number.
